From the Western Recorder. Death of the Rev. Pinkney Lewis.

Died at his residence in Mt. Pleasant, Jefferson County, Ohio, on the 13th of November, 1854, after an illness of three weeks, the Rev. Pinkney Lewis. It is not in the spirit of that indiscriminate eulogy which so often follows the dead, that we say, scarcely any death could have occurred in our community, that would have been so widely felt, and so deeply lamented. Through a life which has been one of eminent and active usefulness, he has been alike distinguished by his integrity, his benevolence, his urbanity, and the exemner, We have prepared a Church Direc. plariness of his whole deportment. It will appear in the next spirited. As a friend, he was social, generous, and constant. As a public officer and legislator, he was prudent, moderate and conciliatory to an opponent, candid the residence of all our city subscribers on and generous to a fault; often illustrating laborers in the great cause of Temperance, the first round. If any should be passed that rare but genuine patriotism, that can by, they will please notify us, and they disregard personal and party interest for the common good. As a christian and a minister, his zeal and faith seemed purified from that sectarian bigotry, that so much dishonors the name of the religion whose throne it so often usurps.

It is not strange that so rare a combina tion of the best qualities that adorn human character, should make his loss deeply felt, and universally lamented. He was beloved by a large circle of friends and relations, Please notice the advertisement of and the unusual multitude of the sorrow-PERRY COVLE.
